

Telia API Management Program

TCS helped Telia architect & set up a cloud-based, scalable API Management platform to boost IT productivity. The centralized platform enabled different units to seamlessly build & host APIs in a common way, promoting service reusability & innovation.

The challenge

In the absence of an enterprise-wide API management platform, Telia's IT units across countries and various programs found it challenging to derive the maximum benefit from the existing APIs across the enterprise. With the industry focus on ecosystem play Telia needed a common API Platform for partners, developers and customers to create, manage, use and evangelize API's as products.

The solution

TCS helped Telia build a centralized, cloud-based API management platform with hybrid architecture and micro gateways, leveraging Apigee Edge. This would enable features to develop, discover, document, decouple and reuse APIs. TCS defined the API lifecycles, built the development & testing pipeline and developed advanced capabilities with third party tools.

The results

In collaboration with TCS, Telia accelerated its digital journey with API management leading to improved productivity and cost savings. The cloud based Apigee API management platform is scalable and capable of integrating with third party applications thereby extending Telia's digital presence and creating opportunities to monetize services with ecosystem partners.

TCS led deployment helped Telia increase agility, transparency and enabled distributed IT units to develop APIs on their own. Easy and flexible integration with third party vendors improved Telia's customer reach and helped to realize higher revenues with robust and reusable services.
