

Dito Transmits Satellites Unlimited to the Cloud

Dito conducted server and database migrations from the current colocated datacenter to the Google Cloud. Dito also provided guidance to Satellites Unlimited, LLC in configuring the network and security to adhere to Google Best Practices.

The challenge

Satellites Unlimited expressed to Dito that they would like to eliminate or greatly reduce the impact of costly hardware refreshes and licensing. They desire a reduction and consolidation of resources while reducing the overall cost of IT.

The solution

After a brief discovery of the client environment, Dito personnel were able to translate needs into technical requirements, stand up a GCP project with suitable instance components and migrate server data into production. Dito enveloped this newly created cloud environment with proper security layered with Google Best Practices.

The results

Over the course of this project, Dito built a rapport with Satellites Unlimited. Each meeting with the client was one we looked forward to simply because we communicated so effortlessly with one another which facilitated business productivity. Satellites Unlimited is now able to enjoy the benefit of IT capital expense reduction and can comfortably navigate in GCP.

The Satellites Unlimited migration project called for multiple skill sets including cloud architecting, data migration, and security engineering. Dito was able to answer the call with expertise in all of the categories by offering a cadre of certified engineers with experience to do the job correctly.
