

GovMarket, an ecosystem for digital governance

T-Systems assists GovMarket in enhancing their readiness for elevated regulations in data security, data protection and other compliance requirements, with a particular focus on ensuring data sovereignty.

The challenge

GovMarket needs a suitable technical platform for its marketplace on a reliable and scalable basis such as the Google Cloud Platform. In addition the platform has to meet the requirements of public clients in terms of data privacy and data security issues.

The solution

T-Systems Sovereign Cloud powered by Google Cloud merges the capabilities and functionalities of the establishes Google Cloud ecosystem with the sovereignty demands of the public sector. With the built-in sovereignty controls data is stored only in Germany while the keys are managed in a separate T-Systems datacenter. Access to the platform is strictly monitored and logged by T-Systems.

The result

By operating the marketplace on the T-Systems Sovereign Cloud powered by Google Cloud, GovMarket gains a future-proof platform with vast technological potential. This positions the startup as an equal partner to public clients' demands for data security and privacy. Now the path to the future is set, with the sovereign cloud safeguarding the startup's journey.

“ Google Cloud simply offers the best tools for our business. With the inherent sovereignty positions we found a platform that sustainably places our business model on a sovereign foundation to meet our public clients' requirement for data security, privacy and other compliance areas ”

Melanie Peterson, Head of Marketing and Communications

About GovMarket

GovMarket builds the bridge between startups and the public sector to foster an innovative digital ecosystem. The young Berlin company provides a platform for public buyers to solve digital administration-related challenges and improve their operations and services.

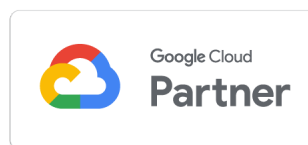

Vertical/horizontal solution: Business & Professional Services

Primary project location: Germany

T Systems

About T-Systems International GmbH

Enabling adaptability to dynamic market demands with tailored multi-cloud, hybrid-cloud and sovereign cloud solutions, fostering innovation.

Products

Google Cloud Platform