

Acciojob - Infrastructure Migration from DigitalOcean To GCP

The project focuses on the migration of Acciojob workload from DigitalOcean to GCP. Niveus enabled the client to host their infrastructure on GCP while improving performance, scalability, reducing costs, and improving security.

The challenge

Acciojob partnered with colleges to source students as part of their B2B strategy. The client had hosted their infrastructure on DigitalOcean and planned to migrate their workload to GCP. The main purpose of the migration was to be equipped with optimized cloud infrastructure and they wanted to harness the best of Google Cloud capabilities in terms of engine, storage and security.

The solution

Google Compute Engine is used to host blogs, booking systems, and internal tools, while web applications on Google App Engine. GCP infrastructure is set up with Virtual Public Cloud network. The product images are stored on Google Cloud Storage, Google Deployment Manager to manage Google resources, Cloud IAM for security, and Cloud Operations Suite for monitoring, logging, and alerting.

The results

As part of their GCP journey, Niveus helped them migrate 7 applications and 1 database from Digital Ocean to GCP. Data was also migrated from DigitalOcean Storage to Google Cloud Storage. Acciojob is using these applications on GCP.

“ A successful Infrastructure migration was achieved with excellent support provided by the Niveus team. They helped us with the migration of applications and a database from DigitalOcean to GCP. The communication was clear and consistent, and any issues that arose were quickly resolved. Thanks and keep up the good work!” ”
