

Kramp Groep's plan to improve its security and data strategy

Devoteams G Cloud's long experience and insight into the future direction of cyber security and data analytics provided much needed insight for the company to formulate its IT strategy for the coming years.

The challenge

Staying up to date with technology posed a challenge for the technology department of the Kramp Hub technology incubator, as multiple projects and a lack of resources led to confusion over priorities. The absence of a centralised priority list caused internal departments to have varying objectives, making it difficult for the company to align the overall IT strategy with the company's goals.

The solution

Devoteam G Cloud planned an IT assessment to help Kramp define its IT strategy. For the security assessment, Devoteam used the Center for Internet Security Critical Security Controls (CSC) framework to assess Kramp's current plans and identify areas for improvement. The data strategy assessment was done by conducting a series of interviews with key stakeholders.

The result

The assessment helped to understand where they stand in terms of their IT landscape, security, and data strategy. Based on the assessment, Kramp defined a strategic improvement plan to bring their IT strategy to the next level. The plan included activities to improve data governance, build a Center of Excellence (COE) and a data science platform with Vertex AI.

“ Devoteam G Cloud quickly responded to our request with a concise plan and an experienced team. They performed the assignment in a fast and professional manner, that helped us to sharpen our strategy and improvement plans. ”

Mirko Schuurman - Director ARchitecture and Security at Kramp Groep
