

Premier Data Practices: Kushki's Looker Specialization Training

FluentData led the initiative for Looker training, delivering LookML expertise, data modeling, and best practices. We provided hands-on sessions and advisory services to facilitate a smooth, effective migration from existing BI tools to Looker.

The challenge

Kushki aimed to modernize its analytics capabilities while minimizing disruption to payment processing operations. The company faced challenges of unifying data schemas, implementing data governance, and rapidly enabling their workforce to leverage a new BI tool. Key challenges included standardizing reporting practices and ensuring alignment across departments.

The solution

FluentData implemented a multi-phase Looker training strategy, starting with foundational LookML and progressing to dedicated sessions on advanced features and embedded analytics. We conducted requirement review sessions to identify priority metrics, provided guidance for dashboard development, established best practices for data modeling and governance, and ensured secure data access protocols.

The result

Through comprehensive training support and guidance, Kushki successfully unified their business intelligence and empowered their teams with cutting-edge analytics capabilities. Teams across the organization gained proficiency in Looker, enabling agile decision-making through standardized reporting. The new data governance framework enhanced data security and reliability throughout the company.

“ We are very pleased with the Looker training provided by FluentData. The team demonstrated deep knowledge [...] and adapted perfectly to our company's requirements. They adhered to the agenda [...] ensuring participants understood the concepts. Their personalized approach made the training effective and aligned with our goals. ”

Javier Moleiro, IT Architect, Kushki

About Kushki

Kushki, a Latin American Paytech company, streamlines digital payments by reducing transaction complexity and costs while improving acceptance rates and reducing fraud. Through its comprehensive payment ecosystem, Kushki empowers businesses to operate efficiently across Latin America.

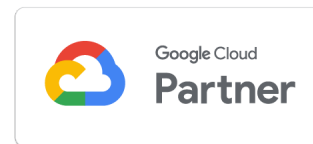

Vertical/horizontal solution: Financial Services

Primary project location: Ecuador

About Fluentcore, LLC

FluentData is a Google Cloud services provider and nearshoring company driving digital transformation across the Americas.

Products

Google Cloud Platform