

Trinity Home Advisors Manage Complex Data With Google Cloud

Promevo's primary goal was to create a BigQuery table that could seamlessly integrate the data for Trinity Home Advisors. Promevo worked closely with Callahan Walker to create a detailed plan to address the business problems.

The challenge

Trinity Home Advisors, encountered a critical issue with pulling data from their organization's customer relationship management (CRM) platform through the API. While he managed to POST the API data to a Google Sheet, the volume of data exceeded the capacity of the API connector he was using.

The solution

Together, we successfully set up the BigQuery table, efficiently managing the data transfer from the CRM. Promevo's method was comprehensive and customer-focused. We guided Callahan through the complexities of Google Cloud and Python, making sure every step was understandable. This collaborative effort not only solved the immediate issue but also empowered Callahan with new knowledge and skills.

The result

The successful setup of the BigQuery table significantly improved Trinity Home Advisors' data management capabilities. Callahan also now possesses a much deeper understanding of Google Cloud and Python, thanks to Promevo's Practice Director of Data Engineering & Analytics, Aaron Gutierrez's mentorship.

“Not only did Promevo make this project so simple and easy, but Aaron taught me so much about the Google Cloud through the process. I would recommend other companies utilize Promevo if they are having any issues with Google Cloud or are struggling with the learning curve,” he continued. “This Promevo project was well worth it for our company.”

Callahan Walker, Data Analyst, Trinity Home Advisors

About Trinity Home Advisors

Trinity Home Advisors is a leading home warranty provider, based in Plano, Texas, that was created to help protect homeowners from unexpected expenses while providing a level of transparency never before seen in the home warranty industry.

Vertical/horizontal solution: Business & Professional Services

Primary project location: United States

promevo™

About Promevo, LLC

Promevo offers support across the entire Google ecosystem and can provide our own custom solutions to optimize the way you do business.

Products

Google Cloud Platform

Google Cloud Training