

Mobile Application Development for Marcellus

Niveus collaborated with Marcellus and developed a digital platform for their investors to facilitate easy and real-time portfolio monitoring & planning.

The challenge

Marcellus envisioned a mobile application that aims to provide users with convenient access to their financial information, and enhance the speed and efficiency of content utilization worldwide. The client wanted Niveus to develop a financial advisory content platform that integrates with blog articles and on demand videos to be made available to the registered investors.

The solution

The application is hosted on the Google Kubernetes Engine and setting up environments for development, testing and production of the application are done by Niveus on Google Cloud infrastructure. The tech stack includes Cloud Deployment Manager, Cloud Scheduler, Google Cloud's operations suite, Cloud load balancing, Cloud Storage, Cloud Security Command Center and Cloud Content Delivery Network.

The result

The mobile app has enabled an easy way of access for the users to their financial details and to use the content in a better & the fastest way across the globe. The application is integrated with Crafter & AI-driven marketing platform and Mobile Endpoint Security. This mobile app has also facilitated the user for their Service request process within the app.

“ Niveus developed a mobile application for Marcellus, serving as a digital platform for investors that facilitated simple portfolio monitoring , reading of research articles, and managing accounts. We were satisfied with the quality of their work, especially with the role of the customer success team and would highly recommend their services to anyone seeking a proficiency to work with. ”
