

Moonen Packaging cloud worries vanish thanks to Managed Services

Devoteam's managed services team was needed for their expertise in creating reliable and stable cloud platforms for expanding businesses.

The challenge

The daily management of Moonen Packaging's Google Cloud environment was causing some headaches as they had insufficient internal resources making responding to occasional outages and disruptions difficult. As they continued to expand, managing their cloud infrastructure became increasingly important. Moonen Packaging needed a solution that could provide consistent and reliable cloud management.

The solution

Devoteam G Cloud seamlessly introduced Moonen Packaging to their Managed Services, a tailored solution that perfectly fit their needs. The Managed Services team at Devoteam G Cloud oversees Moonen Packaging's GCP environment. The solution consists of setting up a monitoring system including a dashboard where the managed services team and Moonen Packaging can monitor their cloud's health.

The result

Devoteam's managed services team swiftly addressed any arising issues. Data flow jobs that were failing? Efficiently managed. Website hiccups? Addressed in no time. It's a partnership that strengthened Moonen Packaging's cloud operations, letting the IT team focus on their core challenges. Knowing that their cloud was in expert hands, they traded in potential sleepless nights for peace of mind.

“ Devoteam's expertise has transformed our IT operations, allowing us to maximize the power of Google Cloud while keeping our focus on our core business. They provide continuous monitoring and support, optimizing our infrastructure for peak performance. Thanks to Devoteam, we now operate with enhanced agility, security, and cost-efficiency.
